THE TEAMS ARE IN AGAIN

I. T. Baseball League Reorganized Same As Last Year

GOSNELL PRESIDENT.

Salary Limit And Game Guarantee Both Raised.

The annual meeting of the Directors of the Kitty League was held here Jan 8 and all of the towns in the League were represented and stay in the League. C. C. Gosnell, of Vincennes, was elected President and Secretary, Nat F. Dorch, of Hopkinsville, Vice President, and a Harrisburg man Treasurer. Cairo and Henderson were notified, but had no representatives.

The salary limit was raised from $800 to $850 and the guarantee from $40 to $50 a game. A committee of three will appoint umpires and prepare the schedule.

DECLARED NOT GUILTY.

Grayson Co. Jury Dismisses Cases Against Six Men.

Leitchfield, Ky., Jan. 9.—The case of the Commonwealth against Marsh Woosley, Harve Aspley, "Rube" Vinson, Brice Brown, William Vinson and Jess Carroll, indicted at the September term of the Grayson Circuit Court "for confederating and banding themselves together for the purpose of intimidating, alarming and injuring persons and property and with the view of committing arson and murder," as the indictment reads, was called up for trial and occupied two days. The jury was out one hour and returned a verdict of not guilty as to all of the defendants.

On March 29 last a band of ten or eleven men went to the residence of Del Carroll, in Edmonson county, whipped several members of the family and shot young Carroll, 13 years of age, as he ran into the yard. Young Carroll died from the wound. The same night the same crowd went to the house of Mrs. Van Meter, over the Grayson county line, and attempted to burn her house.

One of the crowd, Jess Carroll, a mulatto, was found guilty of the murder of young Carroll at the June term of the Edmonson Circuit Court and his punishment fixed at ninety-nine years in the penitentiary.

The Lyon County Herald has greatly improved since its new editor, N. E. Calmes, took charge. It is about the best newspaper that Eddyville has ever had.

Lost Cow.

Strayed from my place Jan. 1, on West 19th street, a large red milch cow, crumpled horns. Reward for return or information.

WALTER COBB.

The Gentle Knocker.

Mayor Head has started out to suppress the spitters who expectorate on the sidewalks, in street cars, and on the floors in public buildings in Louisville. We hope he will succeed, and then tell us how he did it, because we want to put the Owensboro mayor next as soon as possible. There are many nasty-mouth fellows in this town who need to be taught a lesson in common decency.—Owensboro Inquirer.

Kill More Than Wild Beasts.

The number of people killed yearly by wild beasts don't approach the vast number killed by disease germs. No life is safe from their attacks. They're in air, water, dust, even food. But grand protection is afforded by Electric Bitters, which destroy and expel these deadly disease germs from the system. That's why chills, fever and ague, all malarial and many blood diseases yield promptly to this wonderful blood purifier. Try them, and enjoy the glorious health and new strength they'll give you. Money back, if not satisfied. Only 50c at all Drug-gists.

In Wickliffe.

Judge J. T. Hanbery is holding court at Wickliffe in the absence of Judge R. J. Bugg, who is still unable to perform his duties with any regularity. Judge Hanbery went to Ballard county last week for a stay of two weeks.

Robertson Succeeds Vreeland

Mr. Graham Vreeland has retired as managing editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, to be succeeded by Harrison Robertson as general editorial manager. Mr. Vreeland goes into more lucrative employment. Mr. Robertson has been with the Courier-Journal for many years, filling the posts of managing editor and editorial writer, having in special care the editorial page.

"They're such a health necessity, In every home these pills should be. If other kinds you've tried in vain, USE DR. KING'S And be well again. Only 25c at all Druggists."

Aboard Flying Train.

Shelbyville, Ky., Jan 9 —Dick Bentley, a negro suspected of attacking Miss Ethel White at Lawrenceburg last Monday, was given a preliminary hearing on board a swiftly moving Southern Railway passenger train today, while being taken to the Louisville jail for safekeeping.

He was bound over to the April term of court. Feeling is very strong against Bentley in Lawrenceburg and he will remain in the Louisville prison until his case is called in the former city.

SENATORIAL CONTEST

Many Candidates and Outcome is Much In Doubt

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 9.—The announcement came Saturday that the difference of six days' standing between the two warring factions, the Democrats and the Fusionists of the fifty-seventh General Assembly of Tennessee, had been amicably and definitely settled.

Maj. William O. Vertrees, acting attorney for the Democrats, and Thomas B. Johnson, acting attorney for the Fusionists, gave out a signed statement to the press, witnessed by Speaker Nat Baxter, Democrat, of the Senate, and Speaker Leach, Fusionist, of the House, agreeing that all contests pending in both houses be withdrawn in perfect faith.

The thirty-seven Democratic members of the House holding out will go to the Capitol this afternoon when that body reconvenes and be sworn in.

Senator Beveridge, member of the Committee on Privileges and Elections, has decided to make a minority report in the Lorimer case and will make a speech asking the Senate to declare the election of Senator Lorimer to have been illegal. It is expected the report will be made on Monday, and that he will speak in advance of Senator Owen, who was to have made a speech against Lorimer.—Thursday.

The assessment of property in Hopkins county is $5,433,172, a decrease of $183,000. This is exclusive of railroad and telephone property.

The L & N is to build a new round house at Earlinton on ground used as a baseball park.

PARALYSIS

Causes Death of Prominent Cerulean Citizen.

W. B. Ladd, a wealthy farmer and prominent citizen, died last Saturday at his home near Cerulean Springs of paralysis. He was stricken about a month ago.

Mr. Ladd was 81 years old and a member of the Baptist church. He is survived by his wife and four children. His children are L. E. Ladd, of Clarksville, Tenn., Robert and Fenton Ladd, of Princeton, and Mrs. Ella Caldwell, of Fulton. The deceased was an uncle of Mrs. T. D. McGee and Mrs. Walter R. Faulkner, of this city. The interment took place at the family burying ground Sunday.

Goes With Geiser People.

Mr. Albert C. Cox has resigned his position with the Russell Machine Co. and has accepted a similar place with the Geiser Co. He will travel out of Nashville, with headquarters in Hopkinsville, his territory being Western Kentucky.

DR. J. M. PHILLIPS

Formerly of Pembroke Died In Nashville.

News of the death of Rev. J. M. Phillips, in Nashville, last week has been received. He had been ill for some days, but his condition was not regarded as critical, and his death was quite a sudden shock to his family and friends.

Dr. Phillips for a number of years was pastor of the Baptist church at Pembroke. He was a strong preacher and an earnest worker, and applied himself with confident faith and diligence of purpose that few men have ever exhibited either in the ecclesiastical or secular world.

He has many friends here both in and out of the Baptist church, who regret that this good man has passed away.

Our County's Wealth.

Intermingled with the enormous wealth of the country, real and personal, conservatively estimated at over $125,000,000,000, and forming its most forceful component is the banking power—the assets of the more than 27,000 national, state and private banks. Of the sum of the aggregate wealth over one-sixth is represented by the assets of the banks, and the stock of money in the country is equal to about the same proportion of the assets of the banks.

Thus it appears that only one-thirty-sixth of the country's wealth is in money, about one-half of the stock of money consisting of gold, one fifth silver and about one third promissory notes of the government and the banks—that is, two thirds of the monetary stock is in coin. Both the amount and proportion of coin would have appeared greater but for the loss of $135,000,000 of gold in 1907 and $9,000,000 of silver in 1910, resulting from the revision of Treasury Department estimates of the country's stock of metallic currency.

California Anarchists.

The grand jury in the Los Angeles Times explosion returned 22 indictments each charging murder in connection with that crime. It is not likely that the names of those indicted will be divulged until arrests are made. It is believed a large number of San Franciscans are among the indicted.

Victim of Pneumonia.

Mrs. Bettie Dickinson died last Saturday morning near Trenton, after an illness of ten days of pneumonia. She is survived by three children, John, Jesse and Miss Lelia Dickerson.

Received Sad Message

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Beazley were on yesterday informed of the sudden death of their son-in-law, Mr. J. E. Kyzer, at his home in Rutherford, Tenn., and the family left last night for that place. No particulars were given in the telegram. Mr. Kyzer was about 80 years old.

AMUSEMENTS

California Girl's Company.

The Company is composed of 30 people. A score of pretty, shapely girls, four principals and a chorus of sixteen and ten comedians, with special scenery, handsome costumes, bright catchy music and good, clean, wholesome comedy. Two big musical comedy burlesques, "A Breezy Affair" and "In Jungle Land" and seven big vaudeville acts. The above company will appear at Holland's Opera House Tuesday night, Jan. 10. For men only.

Miss Nellie Hille will return this morning from a visit to friends in Bowling Green.

Argument was heard before Judge Evans in Federal Court at Louisville Thursday in the Cumberland Telephone Company rate case. City Attorney Blakey spoke for the city and A. P. Humphrey and W. L. Granbun for the company and the court took the case under advisement.

Senator Stephen B. Elkins, the senior Republican Senator from West Virginia, died of blood poisoning Wednesday night, after a long illness. His death creates a vacancy that will be filled by a Democratic legislature, giving West Virginia two new Democratic Senators.

Chas F. Johnson, of Maine, is the first of the new Democratic Senators to replace a Republican. He is the first Democrat to be sent from Maine in 55 years. He succeeds Senator Eugene Hale.

CRECILIOUS LAW.

Interpreted in a Decision by Court of Appeals.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 6.—Judgment of the Mason Circuit Court in case of the Commonwealth against Thomas Malone was upheld by the Appellate Court. Appellee was indicted for disposing of a crop of pooled burley tobacco without the consent of the authorized agent selected to sell it, in violation of the Kentucky Statutes. He was found not guilty, on peremptory instruction of the trial judge.

The court here lays down some law in the matter of interest to growers, where it says:

"It will be observed from reading the entire statute that crops pooled under its provisions must be 'raised' by the persons pooling them. The owner of tobacco which he did not himself raise, cannot avail himself of the provisions of the statute. Therefore, a mere buyer is excluded from its benefits and cannot legally enter into or be bound by the pooling contracts authorized by the statutes. If excluded from its benefits, it would be unjust to subject him to its penalties."

SAY, GIRLS,

What Do You Think of That Contract?

When Miss Margaret Perkins went to work as telephone operator in a Spokane, Wash., hotel the management required her to give a bond not to marry within six months. The instrument, duly signed and sealed, holds Miss Perkins' bondsmen liable to the extent of $500 in the event she becomes a bride on or before June 21, 1911. The sureties are prominent business men. The reason for this unusual requirement by the hotel management is that a half dozen telephone operators have married within as many months.

Giant Insurance Co. Elects Officers.

At a meeting of the directors of the Giant Insurance Agency Mr. T. J. McReynolds was elected President. A. G. Chapman, General Manager and Mrs. Ida W. Moseley, Secy. & Treas. were re-elected.

Mr. McReynolds will not sever his connection with the Planters Bank.

Helpless As A Baby.

Valley Heights, Va.—Mrs. Jennie B. Kirby, in a letter from this place, says: "I was sick in bed for nine months, with womanly troubles. I was so weak and helpless, at times, that I could not raise my head off the pillow. I commenced to take Cardui, and I saw it was helping me, at once. Now, I can walk all day." As a tonic, for weak women, nothing has been found, for fifty years, that would take the place of Cardui. It will surely do you good, Cardui is prepared from vegetable ingredients, and has a specific, curative effect on the womanly organs. Try a bottle today. At your druggist's.

Just Half in Bed.

Clyde, Ky.—Mrs. I. A. Decker, writes from Clyde: "I recommend Cardui, the woman's tonic, to any woman in need of a remedy. For five years I was unable to do my own work. Half my time was spent in bed. At last I tried Cardui. Now I am well and happy, and can do my own work." Don't suffer pain, headache, backache, and other womanly miseries, when your own druggist has on his shelf a remedy for such troubles—Cardui. Get a bottle for your shelf. As a general tonic, for weak women, nothing has been found for 50 years that would take its place. Try it. It will help you.

DEMOCRATS HOLD THE WHIP HAND

No Agreement Reached By Opposing Factions in Tennessee Legislature.

THE REGULARS SAY

Declare They Will Go Home Before Hearing Contests Tried Out.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 6.—The legislative deadlock continues, and no business is being transacted by either body. The independent Democrats and Republicans were in their seats when the House met yesterday morning, but the regular Democrats did not put in an appearance. After a short session the House adjourned.

Should the deadlock continue Capt. Ben W. Hooper, Governor-elect, cannot be sworn in, and as a consequence Patterson will continue as Governor. The leaders of both factions are hard at work in an endeavor to bring about a compromise that will be agreeable to both sides, but so far nothing has been accomplished, and the factions are as wide apart as ever.

The regular Democrats of the House issued a statement in which they defined their position regarding the legislative deadlock. They say: "Long before the Legislature was to meet it was authoritatively known that there would be two contests in the Senate.

"It was also well known that there would be a contest between Mr. Ausmus and Mr. Day in the House. Those contests were understood to be bonafide contests, and of course, meant to be entertained and considered accordingly."

They say they will go home before they will submit to having any other contests tried out.

"They can do nothing in the way of legislation without us," the statement says. "The House is not a House assembled and organized until at least sixty-six members have been sworn in. This pretended House is a mere rump assembly, whose action cannot be recognized by the Senate nor the courts. So confident are we of the rightfulness of our position that we will maintain it as long as necessary, in the confidence that it will be indorsed by the Democrats of Tennessee."

ENTER FLYING SCHOOL.

New Inventor Claims to Correct Defect That Cost Hoxsey His Life.

Judge Chas. O. Prowse, has organized a company of local capitalists to push his new invention, an improved monoplane, and will go to St. Louis in a few days to have a man-carrying machine built and thoroughly tested. His machine embodies the best features of the Bleriot and Antoinette, but the chief improvement which Judge Prowse claims and for which he has applied for patents is an automatic balancing device that is expected to make the overturning of the machine impossible. Judge Prowse built a small model last year, with which he conducted secret experiments, all of which proved highly satisfactory. He expects to operate his own machine in flying and to perfect himself in this he will take a course in a St. Louis school of aviation.

NATURE'S WARNING

Hopkinsville People Must Recognize And Heed It

Kidney ills come quickly—mysteriously.

But nature always warns you. Notice the kidney secretions. See if the color is unhealthy—

If there are settlements and sediment,

Passages frequent, scanty, painful. It's time then to use Doan's Kidney Pills.

To ward off Bright's disease or diabetes.

Doan's have done great work in this locality.

Thomas Torian, Main St., Cadiz, Ky., says: "I am convinced that there is no other kidney remedy on the market today equal to Doan's Kidney Pills. I suffered for years from intense pains through my back and at times I was so lame and stiff that I could not get out of my bed. The kidney secretions were scanty and painful in passage. I doctored, but received no relief until a friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills. He spoke so highly in their favor that I procured a supply. I felt a great deal better after taking them a short time and thus encouraged, I continued their use until I was free from kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Death of Miss Eula Moore.

Miss Eula Moore, daughter of Mrs. Minerva J. Moore, died Thursday evening at the home of her mother, No. 1104 South Campbell street, after a long illness of tuberculosis. The deceased was in her 34th year and was a member of the Methodist church.

Besides her mother, she is survived by three sisters and one brother. Her funeral services were conducted by Rev. G. W. Lyon and Rev. A. R. Kasey, at her late residence Sunday afternoon and the body was laid to rest in Riverside cemetery.

The Courier's New Year's Edition.

The New Year's edition of the Evansville Courier is a superb record of the progress of Evansville in the past year. Some of the big achievements of that city in 1910, which are fully described, are:

The location of the Henderson dam, which will cost $2,000,000 and give employment to 500 men for five years, which will give Evansville a lake like harbor and a 9 foot stage of water the year round for a distance of twenty-five miles along the river.

The extension of the Big Four railroad to Evansville at a cost of more than $2,000,000.

The progress on the municipal filtration plant, which will cost a third of a million dollars and give Evansville a supply of pure, sparkling

ORANGE SALE

ANDERSON'S

Ten Thousand Beautiful Oranges and $1,000.00 in Bright New Money Absolutely Free!

Beginning Wednesday, January 11th, and Continuing Four Days

We will inaugurate the greatest money giving Mercantile event ever known in Hopkinsville. We've just finished Invoicing and close the most prosperous year this business ever experienced. As a thank offering to our many friends, we propose to distribute ten thousand big Luscious Oranges filled with bright new money, amounting to one thousand dollars. In addition to this unparalleled offering, we propose to make special prices for this Orange Sale in every department. Remember the date, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, January 11th to 14th. Read the plan carefully and you'll see you have all to gain and nothing to lose. You'll get more than your money's worth in Merchandise, and the Oranges filled with money are merely a thank offering. Come Wednesday, the first day.

HERE IS OUR PLAN: We have bought specially for this sale ten thousand big Luscious Oranges, and ordered direct from Washington One Thousand Dollars in bright new Silver and Gold coin, every piece clean and fresh from the moulds. Exactly half of these Oranges will be just as they came from the tree and will contain no money, every one of the other half will contain money. Some will have dollars in them, others half dollars, some quarters, some dimes, and at least ten of them will have five dollar gold pieces in them. All the oranges will be put in paper sacks and the ends twisted. Those containing money and those without will be mixed as carefully as possible so that no one can tell one from the other. For every dollar purchased for cash you will be permitted to take one orange, an orange for every dollar you spend, and we guarantee that half the oranges will contain money. The percentage is an even break in your favor and we offer you a clean legitimate opportunity to speculate, with no possible chance to lose. With every dollar goes one hundred cents worth of merchandise and one orange, with an even chance for the orange to contain a coin ranging from a dime to five dollars in gold. Look over these prices, note the dependable merchandise, and remember our absolutely unchangeable adherence to one price to all, and you'll recognize the tremendous money saving opportunity offered in this sale.

TO MAKE A "TRIFLE"

DAINTY ENGLISH CONFECTION IS SIMILAR TO AMERICAN DISH.

Delicious Dainty Is Made as Easily as Less Tempting Ones—To Insure Success Whip Should Be Made Day Before.

A trifle, as served in England, is altogether a more elaborate and delicious affair than the sweet which so frequently is served in this country under the same name. True there are almost as many English variations of this dainty as there are American ones, but the favorite one, called simply "a trifle," stands distinctly apart and above all others.

This is quite as easily made as the less delicious ones, but to ensure success the whip should be made the day before it is to be used, as keeping it for 24 hours makes it firmer and vastly improves its flavor. To make the whip, put together into a large bowl one pint of thick, sweet cream, one-quarter of a pound of pounded loaf sugar, the whites of two eggs, and a small glass of sherry or of raisin wine. Orange jelly made slightly tart by the addition of a little lemon juice may be substituted for the wine if preferred, or any other fruit juice having a pleasing flavor. Whisk these ingredients well in cool place and as fast as the froth rises remove it with a skimmer and put it on a sieve to drain. When sufficient of the whip has been prepared, place it in a cool place to drain. For the trifle, place six small sponge cakes, twelve coconut macaroons, and two dozen ratafias at the bottom of a deep glass dish and pour over them one cupful of sherry or of sweet wine mixed with four or five tablespoonfuls of brandy. Fruit juice may again be substituted if preferred. Just enough should be used to soak the cakes thoroughly. Mix lightly together the grated yellow rind of one lemon, three large spoonfuls of sweet almonds blanched and cut in strips, and sufficient raspberry or strawberry jam to make a generous layer. Place it evenly over the cakes in the dish. Pour over a rich, boiled custard, well chilled, and heap the whipped cream as high over the top as possible. Garnish with strips of red currant jelly and some crystallized fruit or candles, rose petals and violets.

Fried Halibut.

Cut the slices about the middle an inch in thickness; wipe dry and have ready sifted cracker crumbs, season with pepper and salt; beat up an egg, dip the seasoned slices into it; then sprinkle the crumbs thickly over. Have enough boiling lard to cover the fish. When brown serve hot. Decorate the serving dish with slices of lemon and sprigs of parsley. To test lard before putting in the fish drop in a crust of bread; if it browns the lard is of the right temperature.

Fricassee of Calf's Tongues.

Boil the tongues one hour. Pare and cut into thick slices. Roll these in flour, and fry in dripping five minutes. Put the tongues into a saucepan; add sliced onion, thyme and parsley. Cover with a cup of your soup or gravy. Simmer half an hour, covered tightly. Take up the tongues, keep them warm; steam the gravy; thicken, put in four or five thin slices of lemon from which the peel has been taken; boil one minute and pour over the fricassee.

Keep Milk Sweet.

Fill a bottle or two within half an inch of the neck, press a perforated rubber stopper into each bottle, set them in a pot of water until the water begins to boil; then press a glass stopper into the rubber one, thus hermetically sealing the bottle, which should not be unfastened until required for use. Milk so treated is freed from all germs of life or disease, and no amount of thunder will turn it sour.

Soup Stock.

Boil a soup bone the day before wanted. Boil gently from five to six hours, strain and put in earthen dish; skim off the grease the next day; keep in a cool place. In order to prepare soup it is only necessary to heat some of the jelly. One can have a change of soup each day by adding different flavorings such as tomatoes, onions, vermicelli, tapoca, vegetable or celery. Add sufficient boiling water for the necessary amount of liquor.

Stripped Potatoes, Stewed.

Pare and cut into lengthwise strips; cover with boiling water; put in a cup of cold milk, with salt and pepper. When this boils stir in a spoon of butter rolled in flour, with a little chopped parsley. Cook two minutes and serve.

To Clean Enamel.

When the enamel becomes discolored scour it with a damp flannel dipped in garden mold, then rinse it in plenty of water. In this way the cleaning is effected without causing scratches or other damage.

Codfish Fritters.

Cut the codfish in strips about the size of the finger, soak over night to freshen, and in the morning take from the water, dry in a towel, dip each piece in a batter made of eggs, milk, flour and fry brown in hot fat.

The Mysterious Luncheon

When Mrs. Kimball received the invitation from Mrs. Carter, whose husband was a business acquaintance of Kimball's and therefore had to be treated somewhat delicately, she made a number of sputtering, inarticulate noises which ended in a quite articulate assertion that she would not go.

After she had proclaimed positively at least a dozen times that she would not go and nothing could induce her to go, she sat down and meekly informed the abhorred Mrs. Carter, per post, that she would be delighted to accept her very kind and welcome invitation.

The morning of the luncheon dawned stormy and unpleasant. Mrs. Kimball protested at every stage of her toilet that she could not and would not go. When she eventually did get started it was somewhat late, and the long trip from her north shore suburban home to the South side, punctuated by delays to trains and cars, was torture to her. She breathed a sigh of relief as, after glancing at her watch and noting that she was only five minutes behind the hour appointed, she pressed the electric bell.

To her surprise no one opened the door. She waited a few minutes and rang again. There was still no response. In some doubt, she rang again. This time the door was opened about two inches by a maid with a dismal countenance. An odor as of fried potatoes and other viands which are usually reserved for purely family occasions slipped past her and faded away into the street. Mrs. Kimball took a hesitating step forward.

"Is Mrs. Carter at home?" she ventured.

"Don't know," snapped the maid, "but I can go and look if you've a mind to come in."

Mrs. Kimball stepped inside the door and the maid disappeared, leaving the guest a prey to disquieting surmises. Was it possible, she asked herself, that she had mistaken the day? She put this possibility aside as absurd, as she had a distinct recollection of the wording of the invitation. Filled with uneasy thoughts, she heard excited voices in the rear of the house, but these were quickly drowned by the closing of a door. After what seemed an interminable time another door upstairs opened and her hostess came rustling down.

"Oh, my dear," she gushed, "I was beginning to be afraid you weren't coming. Come right upstairs with me and take off your hat, so that we can be perfectly informal and comfortable."

She rustled up in front of Mrs. Kimball and pushed her affectionately into a bedroom.

"Now, make yourself perfectly at home," she urged, "while I run down and take a peep into the kitchen. You know how a housekeeper feels about seeing to things personally." Then she disappeared.

"I'm sorry to say there is a disappointment in store for you," she began apologetically when she reappeared after a long absence.

"Mrs. Tribler, whom I asked you to meet, has been taken ill and was unable to come." She pushed a caressing arm through her guest's before she continued: "But I just couldn't let myself be disappointed of you and I thought you and I could have a nice little home luncheon together."

Arm in arm they descended the stairs, and were just about to turn into the living room when they were halted by the sound of a loud, truculent voice.

"Say, Mrs. Carter," called the voice, "didn't I better get three pounds of steak? With company and the children no two pounds won't go round, hardly."

Mrs. Carter turned a brilliant crimson and dropped her guest's arm.

"Excuse me just a minute," she said. "There seem to be domestic complications."

Mrs. Kimball wandered into the living room and once more waited. Nearly an hour later, when the guest was almost in the last throes of hunger, luncheon was served.

It consisted of steak, baked potatoes, beans which had evidently been summoned from a can, shrimp salad bearing the same impress, canned peaches and bakery cake. There were no children present. Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Kimball lunched in solitary state, waited upon by an evidently much aggrieved maid.

After a short and somewhat feverish "visit" with her hostess, Mrs. Kimball took her departure.

All the way home she wondered what it all meant. She knew she hadn't been mistaken in the day. Since she was expected, what possible explanation was there of her peculiar reception?

At her own door she was met by Caroline, her own maid, with a telegram. "This came just after you left, ma'am," Caroline explained.

Mrs. Kimball, opening it, found it was from Mrs. Carter. She read:

"Mrs. Tribler unable to come Thursday. Can you come Monday?"

Mrs. Kimball sat down upon the nearest chair and pitched her handbag across the room.

"There!" she ejaculated as it fell with a crash. "That may not be lady-like, but it's a great relief. And what's more," she added vindictively, after a moment's pause, "I just know they had finished lunch before I got there and had to do it all over again. And what's more, I'm glad she had all that trouble. I do hate a fool!"

Who Was There That You Knew?

IN the shadowy ranks of those who marched to defeat or death or victory fifty years ago in the mighty conflict that convulsed this great nation, is there father or grandfather or uncle of yours? Would you like to see a photograph of him in that long ago day of his youth—a photograph that he never knew was taken? Perhaps we can show you one; and in any case, we can tell you a story, stranger than any detective fiction, of 3,500 priceless photographs that were lost and are found again.

3,500 Long Buried Photographs of the Civil War

THEY were taken by the greatest photographer in the United States of that day; they were bought by the United States Government for $30,000; they were buried in the War Department for 50 years—they are buried there still. But a duplicate set was kept by the photographer—who died poor and broken down; that duplicate set was knocked from pillar to post for nearly 50 years, until it was discovered by a New England collector. J. Pierpont Morgan tried to secure the collection—Ex-President Garfield and General Benjamin F. Butler said it was worth $150,000—yet with the help of the Review of Reviews, the entire collection has been gathered into 13 great volumes and is placed within your reach at less than the value of one of the photographs. It is the one accurate, impartial history of the Civil War—the camera cannot lie. It tells the story of the War you never heard before. Taken under protection of the Secret Service, these photographs bring to light thousands of little-known phases of the war; they penetrate to strange places and record strange things.

Dr. Cook's Confession

In the January issue of HAMPTON'S MAGAZINE—the magazine that published Commander Peary's Own Story of the Conquest of the North Pole—Dr. Cook frankly admits that he does not know whether he reached the North Pole or not.

Since the sudden and mysterious disappearance of Dr. Frederick A. Cook in November, 1909 until the publication of this series no word has been received from this man who stood so conspicuously for a brief while before the world, the recipient of unprecedented honors. Why did Dr. Cook disappear? Was not this a tacit admission that he had presented a fraudulent claim to the discovery of the North Pole? Or did he ever possibly believe in himself? Where has he been? What has he done?

In his story—a human document of the most extraordinary interest and importance—Dr. Cook has held up his own naked soul for public examination; has searchingly and mercilessly analyzed the mental processes which preceded his extraordinary actions since his return from that barren world where, he says, "I felt what few men of cities feel"—the tragic isolation of the human soul—a thing which, dwelt upon, must mean madness, I think I realized the aching vastness of the world after Creation, before man was made.

On its own merits, we print Dr. Cook's Own Story in the January issue of PRESCRIPTION HARD TO FILL.

Doctor's Orders Had to Be Disregarded by Nurse.

When we were house doctors 15 years ago in one of the large hospitals of Boston, says a writer in the Herald of that city, one of our number was at times inclined to imbibe too freely when he had an evening free from his surgical duties. One night he came back to the hospital at 11 o'clock, and though perfectly able to walk, his brain was a bit befogged.

As was usual, he went the rounds of the wards to see if his patients were comfortable. One of them complained of pain and the doctor wrote a prescription in the "order book" for the nurse to give the patient, and then went off to bed. As was customary he made a morning visit before the arrival of the head surgeon, and as he reached the bed of the man for whom he wrote the prescription the previous evening, the nurse said "she was very sorry, but she couldn't give the medicine as he had directed," and at the same time she handed him the order book.

The doctor was overcome, for he had written "Three roller bandages to be taken every three hours."

CONSIDERING A CHANGE.

Lucy caused her mistress a lot of worry by receiving the attentions of a dashing head waiter at a seaside resort hotel. "Really, you ought to speak to Lucy about it," so the friends of the girl's mistress told her. "It would be too bad to see Lucy in love with a married man." Speak to her she did, but to her surprise, she saw Lucy parading the boardwalk the next evening in the same old company, and on the following day Lucy was taken severely to task.

"Lucy," said her mistress, severely, "I thought I told you that that man is married already."
"Yes'm," replied Lucy, demurely, "Ah knows that. But he's dissatisfied."

LIQUID OF IMMENSE VALUE.

A Hungarian chemist named Brunn claims to have discovered a liquid chemical compound which doubles the density of nearly every kind of stone and renders it waterproof, and imparts to all metals qualities which defy oxygen and rust. While traveling in Greece some 25 years ago he noticed that the mortar in stones of ruins which were known to be over 2,000 years old was as hard, fresh, and tenacious as if it had been made only a year. He secured a piece of the mortar, and has been working on it ever since until now.

THE MARRIED LIFE.

"That new neighbor of ours," said Gaddie, "seems to be very fond of declaring that 'life is full of contradictions.' What does he mean by that, anyway?"

"I suppose," replied Henpeck, "that he simply means to say he's married."

THAT'S SO.

"The man on the Springfield (Mo.) Republican says matrimony is like poker, it is all in the draw."

"All right as far as it goes, but in poker you can draw out after the draw if you feel like it."—Houston Post.

WOMEN TO THEIR RESCUE.

Australian Politics Reformed by the Work of the Fair Sex.

A Queensland man told me that he doubted if in his part of the country they could have achieved much if it had not been for the women, says a writer in Everybody's Magazine. Every avenue of employment was absolutely in the hands of the intrenched governing classes and every man that agitated for election reform was not only discharged but blacklisted and boycotted. He found it impossible then to obtain employment anywhere; no man dared to hire him.

George Ryland was blacklisted for five years. They would not let him plow nor chop wood nor drive horses. It looked like a hopeless fight against a power so great and so arbitrary. Often the men were discouraged, but the women, never; they had more pluck than the men. The savage injustice had stirred their utmost resentment; one and all they urged their husbands to keep on and never to yield. In many cases wives assumed the burden of supporting the family. Some turned dressmakers and some cooks.

One family that I know lived four years on a weekly income of between $3 and $4 earned with her needle by the wife and mother. The husband tramped Queenstown looking in vain for work. With such a spirit among the women the situation could not long continue. A body of voters grew up not of the labor element but painfully convinced that existing conditions were wrong. These united with the few labor men that had the franchise, the "better" element was outvoted and overturned, the suffrage was reformed, the labor party swept into possession of the Queensland state government and holds the government to-day.

JUST SO.

The New Man—Oh, I see. You want a man on this paper who will call a spade a spade.

The Editor—Certainly not. We want a man who can call a spade an indispensable implement of primitive agriculture.

WHAT'S IN A NAME.

"So you met Mr. Sniffkins?"
"Yes, and I was greatly disappointed."

"You were? Why, he's a big, fine-looking man and his mind is just as big as—"

"That's just it. With a name like that I expected him to be an insignificant little rat, with weak eyes and side whiskers."

CHARGE IT IN THE BILL.

"Doctor," said a shrewd looking man, "how many feet of gas does it take to kill a man?"

"That's a queer question," replied the doctor. "Why do you wish to know?"

"One of the guests at my hotel used enough of it to kill himself and I want to send in a proper bill to his executors."

YOU NEVER CAN TELL.

"Well," remarked the amateur student of human nature, "you can be pretty sure that the woman who doesn't gush over a pretty baby is a confirmed old maid."

"Not at all," replied the wise man. "She may be a mother who has a baby she thinks is prettier."

GOOD PHILOSOPHY.

The pitcher had gone to the well for the last time.

"And yet," he remarked to himself, "I can claim as much credit as lots of men. I was nearly always full before I was broke."

And he went his way in piece.—Toledo Blade.

WITH THE MULE BEHIND IT.

Dubley—Here's a joke for you: "Hard luck—A horse shoe." See?
Scribbles—Huh! it's hard luck it wasn't a mule shoe when that joke struck you.

CREAM OF NEWS COMPILED AND COLLECTED FROM ALL SOURCES

Judge Barker, when he retired from the Appellate Court Bench, was given a silver pitcher by his colleagues. We are glad the Judge now has a pitcher he can't break when he goes to the well.

After we thought it was all over without it, the Murray Gazette called it "Yuletide."

Atlee Pomerene, the new Democratic Lieutenant Governor of Ohio, has been elected Senator from Ohio; although his term in the Senate begins in March, he will serve as Lieutenant Governor, in which capacity he presides over the Ohio Senate, until the end of the present session, which may extend until after May 1. His successor will be appointed by Gov. Harmon.

Douglas Hancock, who has been in the employ of the L. & N. railroad at Memphis for the past six years, has resigned his position and accepted a lucrative position with the American Snuff Company of which his brother W. M. Hancock, is local manager.

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for each case that it fails to cure. Send for one to the proprietors.

Senator Johnson.

Senator Chas. F. Johnson, of Maine, will have the distinction of being the first Democrat sent to the Senate from Maine since the Republican party was organized in 1856. More than that, he will be the first Democrat sent to the Senate from any New England State since William W. Eaton, of Connecticut was there, thirty years ago, and consequently the first Democratic member from New England in the official career of any man now in the Senate.

Escaped With His Life.

"Twenty-one years ago I faced an awful death," writes H. B. Martin, Port Harrelson, S. C. "Doctors said I had consumption and the dreadful cough I had looked like it, sure enough. I tried everything, I could hear of, for my cough, and was under the treatment of the best doctor in Georgetown, S. C. for a year, but could get no relief. A friend advised me to try Dr. King's New Discovery. I did so, and was completely cured. I feel that I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure. 'It's positively guaranteed for coughs, colds, and all bronchial affections. 50c & $1.00. Trial bottle free at all druggists."

HINTS FOR BAKERS OF CAKE

Things Always to Be Remembered Is Never to Mix Sweet and Sour Milk.

The woman who bakes cake should heed these little hints:

In recipes in which milk is used as one ingredient never mix sweet and sour together, as that has a tendency to make the cake heavy.

Always sift the flour, not merely because there may be dirt in it, but because packing injures its lightness and sifting restores it and makes bread and cake lighter.

Before beginning to mix a cake it is better to collect all the ingredients which enter into it, otherwise one or more of them may be omitted and thus spoil the cake.

All cakes without yeast should have the flour mixed in quickly just as it goes into the oven.

An oven to bake well must have a regular heat throughout, but particularly a good heat at the bottom, without which a cake will not rise in baking as in making.

Pickled Peaches.

Make sirup of four pounds of sugar to one quart of vinegar, two table-spoonfuls each of whole cloves, stick cinnamon broken in pieces tied in a muslin bag and boiled in the vinegar and sugar. Rub the velvet from a peck of peaches and cook a few at a time in the sirup until tender then place them in a stone jar or crock, and after boiling the sirup down a little, pour it over the peaches and cover. These are delicious with oysters (fried or escalloped), and will keep a year.

Gathering.

To gather nicely on the sewing machine make the tension quite loose. Then pull the top thread tense and then the lower one will not pull through, as is often the case when you draw it up. It also saves tying the two ends together.

Filling for Wall Cracks.

Cracks in walls may be filled up with plaster of paris. Mix this with vinegar instead of water. It will then be like putty and can be used with ease. If mixed with water it hardens so soon that it is very difficult to use it quickly enough.

Celery Jelly.

The flavor of celery is missed in fruit salads, yet it is not desirable to order the vegetable. Its place may be supplied as follows: Cover two cups celery cut in pieces with one pint hot water, add few slices of onion, two sprigs of parsley, and season to taste. Let simmer about an hour and strain through cheesecloth. Add to the liquid two tablespoons of gelatin, softened in one-fourth cup cold water and the juice of one large lemon. Strain again into large platter wet in cold water. When cold cut into squares and add to the salad.

Creamed Peach Tapioca.

Cook one heaping tablespoon of tapioca (the kind that requires no soaking) in one pint of milk in double boiler about fifteen minutes. Take four or five peaches, peel and cut in pieces. Put into buttered pudding dish, add the stones to give better flavor. Beat one egg, add two heaping tablespoons of sugar, one quarter teaspoon of salt and stir into the milk. Remove at once from the fire and pour over the peaches. Bake in moderate oven till peaches are done (about one-half hour). Good hot or cold.

Cracker Pudding.

Eighteen crackers soaked in one quart milk until soft and baked three-fourths of an hour. Serve with sauce made as follows: One pint water thickened with two tablespoons flour or cornstarch, one cup sugar, small piece of butter, flavoring. Cook in double boiler. Remove from stove and stir in one beaten egg.

Plum Marmalade.

Cover well with cold water and cook plums until tender; then rub through a sieve; add three-quarters of a pound of sugar to a pound of plums, simmer slowly, stirring occasionally and carefully; cook for 30 minutes or until thick. Put into jars and seal.

Dainty Dessert.

Take a glass, half fill with crushed and sweetened raspberries, then fill with whipped cream, sweetened and flavored, if desired.
